Presentation objects - Text

To add text, you have to touch and hold it and move it onto the slide, or simply touch the text button and the object will automatically appear on the slide. To edit the text, double click on it with the mouse or copy and paste your text.
When you click on the text, the grey panel at the bottom will display text editing elements.

With text, we can format the font, the size and other functions available in most editors.

If the text does not fit in the area allocated for it, you can turn on the "scrolling text" function. You can scroll the text within the selected area. For the slider to work, you have to double click the text. When recording, the text can be scrolled up and down using your finger or the marker on the touchboard.
The "show control panel" button adds the up and down buttons next to the text. You can scroll the text using these buttons or the slider.

When you change the position of a text object on a slide, the arrows may move up/down right/left. If the text is in the top part of the slide, the arrows will go down, and if it is in the bottom part, the arrows will go up. The same is true for the right and left parts of the slide. This happens automatically to make it easier for the speaker to click them.
